

The significant announcement by Solartron and Suntech on the collaboration of Bangchak Solar Power Plant Project through ASEAN Solar Market.

Solartron, the leading solar solution provider in Thailand and Suntech, the world largest solar module manufacturer have recently agreed on the MOU after an enormous project of solar power plant project in ASEAN.

Ms. Patama Wongtoythong, the present CEO of Solartron, made an official announcement on the MOU with Suntech in order to capture ASEAN market, as the world solar radiation location, a rapid improvement trend of the solar power plant business.

Thailand become the first country providing ADDER program, while Malaysia expected to be applying at the end of 2010, and followed by the Philippines.

Ms. Patama Wongtoythong also mentioned on Bangchak solar power plant project, which obviously prove the capability of Solartron and Suntech, while both become the first place of the Turn-key solar power plant competition worldwide. It clearly becomes the perfect match of two company to make a step forward to 500 MW project. Our world future trend on solar business must take a careful focus on both company toward ASEAN solar market.
